Unofficial Report Says Saanich Girl Died of Asphyxia

Autopsy Said to Have Shown Cause—"Will Come Out at Inquest," Police Chief Asserts

Police authorities have been informed that Myfanwy (Dot) Sanders died of asphyxia, it was learned unofficially last night.

The startling information was credited to Dr. John H. Moore, who conducted the autopsy on the girl's body on Saturday, less than 24 hours after the discovery was made in a vacant field near the intersection of Burnside and Grange Roads. The 16-year-old girl had been missing from her home, about 500 yards away, for 23 days.

There were no signs of earth decay where the body was lying and the grass there was green and springy, indicating that the body might not have been in that spot throughout the three weeks, it was pointed out.

Chief Jodah Bull, of Saanich, confirmed yesterday that the inquest will be held on Friday at 10.30 a.m. at Sands Mortuary Ltd.

EXPECT ADJOURNMENT AT INQUEST

An early adjournment is looked for to await the report of Genille Cave-Brown-Cave, Provincial Government analyst, who is searching for traces of poison. Mr. Cave-Brown-Cave is expected back in the city today after being called to Port Alberni as a witness in a case.

Reports last night indicated the girl wore the same clothing as she did on the day of her disappearance, but it is believed an undergarment was not found on the body.

Several days ago, Chief Bull said that the autopsy showed no marks of violence on the body, but yesterday, when queried about suffocation, his reply was that he had no information to give at present.

"It will come out at the inquest," he said.

NO INFORMATION ON RUMORS

Two points about the early disappearance of the girl were mooted yesterday. One said Saanich police had received information from persons who said they knew the girl and said they had seen her in the city two or three days after her disappearance. Another report is believed to have placed her in Vancouver. Verification or denial of rumors that are running wild in Greater Victoria is not obtainable from Saanich police.

In addition to confirmation of the asphyxia report by Dr. Moore at the inquest, evidence as to the length of time the girl had been dead when her body was found is expected from the man who conducted the lengthy post-mortem.

The complete analysis of all organs for known varieties of poison may take from ten days to a month, it was indicated yesterday. This posed the possibility of a long period during which a dark blanket would be drawn over the facts unearthed by the investigation.

It was explained last night that if a volatile poison were the cause of death, all traces might have disappeared and would not be identifiable.

Caught in Flow Of Sulphurous Smelling Mud

CRANBROOK, Nov. 14 (CP).—Mrs. J. M. Smith, of Fort Steele, B.C., a woman trapper, sank up to her waist in a heavy flow of sulphurous-smelling mud after an eruption from a mountain in the inaccessible Sheep Creek section of the Rocky Mountains, it was reported today.

Mrs. Smith's story was heard here following reports of a volcano in the mountain and according to her story she and her trapping partner, James White, saw the eruption while they were taking a pack train into their trap lines in the Sheep Creek area in the southeastern corner of British Columbia.

The two trappers have returned to their trap line and it was impossible to get further details from them. They are not expected back at Fort Steele until the end of December.

Mrs. Smith and Mr. White said the heavy flow of mud caught up with them and one of the horses became mired in it. Another horse pulled to mate from the mud.

Nancy Miles, Canadian Press correspondent at Cranbrook, reported that the mud "has since shown up as far down the Kootenay" as Fort Steele, 50 miles south of the Sheep Creek area.

Miss Miles said Mrs. Smith's daughter, Dorothy, told about her mother being caught in the mud.

Atomic Power Announcement Expected Soon

Joint Declaration May Be Made Today

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (CP).—A joint announcement from President Truman and Prime Ministers Attlee and Mackenzie King looking toward agreement on international control of atomic power was believed imminent tonight as the three leaders concluded their third long conference session.

It was expected the announcement would be made public late tomorrow or early Friday, probably at a joint press conference in the White House.

Official silence has surrounded the talks, apparently by agreement of the leaders, after Sunday's sensational statement by a British spokesman that Mr. Attlee and Mr. King came to Washington with a definite plan for placing atomic and other important scientific discoveries under control of the United Nations' organization providing Russia and other member countries would similarly share their scientific secrets.

But there were well-grounded reports today that the talks were going smoothly and that conclusions would be reached in time for Mr. Attlee and Mr. King to leave Friday for Ottawa, where the British Prime Minister will be a three-day guest of the Canadian Government.

The three leaders and their advisers spent all afternoon in conference today and tonight Mr. Attlee and Mr. King were guests at a British Embassy banquet.

Tomorrow night they will be guests at a Canadian Embassy dinner. Today Mr. Attlee talked off the record at a luncheon of the Overseas Writers' Club and stood off the questions of 300 correspondents who sought in vain for something on the atomic discussions.

Meanwhile, War Secretary Patterson told a press conference that domestic legislation should be adopted promptly to clear the way for international action.

"My own view," he said, "is that international arrangements will require a domestic control in order for this Government to make good on any agreement."

Possible to Produce Enough Now for All, Truman Asserts

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP).—President Truman said tonight that for the first time in history "it is technically possible to produce enough material goods so that all men everywhere may be adequately fed, decently housed and comfortably clothed."

The President, in a letter transmitted to the concluding session of the 32nd National Foreign Trade Convention, added:

"The question is whether our arrangements for exchange and distribution will be such that these enormous productive powers are enabled to operate freely for the benefit of everyone."

The 2,000 international traders and bankers also heard Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australia's Foreign Minister, declare that his country wants the United States to take the lead in the postwar world, but that "Australia's willingness to follow your leadership in any new international program must be measured by our confidence in your ability to remain prosperous."

Spruille Braden, Assistant Secretary of State, who recently was attacked verbally as United States Ambassador to Argentina, asserted in obvious reference to that country that there was only one "notorious exception" to economic co-operation in the Americas. He added extemporaneously that "in that one notorious exception I want to make it plain that we hear the cry of anguish from that noble land and will answer it by every appropriate means at our disposal."

Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank and author of the pay-as-you-go tax plan, declared that the new international "time table is set by the existence of the atomic bomb," and that if world tension is not eased within two years "then those nations that can unite should do so, leaving the way open for a broader federation later on."

The convention as a whole adopted a declaration for creating "most-favored-nation" agreements between the United States and as many other countries as possible.

President Truman professed not to know all the answers as to how best to make the world's enormous productive capacity operate to the best advantage for everyone, but he said that a relaxation of Government controls and the elimination of private monopoly would help.

Britain's Coal Picture Better

LONDON, Nov. 14 (CP).—Fuel Minister Emmanuel Shinwell today told The Canadian Press that if Britain gets another week or so of warm weather, it will be "over the top" in the provision of coal for this Winter.

An unusually mild Autumn has saved the equivalent of five days' coal production, some 7,000,000 tons, he said.

Six-Course Lunch—Situation Grave

TOKIO, Nov. 14 (Reuter).—The Japanese Cabinet, more than 100 members of the nobility and a number of former premiers today discussed the grave Japanese food situation. After several hours' discussion they adjourned to eat a six-course lunch.

Lines Out As Storm Hits B.C.

Telegraph and Phone Connections Disrupted

By The Canadian Press

Heavy snowstorms throughout southwestern British Columbia, the Okanagan Valley and the Kootenays have seriously disrupted communications between the Pacific Coast and Eastern Canada.

Both the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Telegraphs reported many of the lines down Wednesday between Ruby Creek and Yale, B.C., following a heavy fall of wet snow Tuesday night and Wednesday. Lines also were out in the Coquihalla Pass.

Officials of the British Columbia Telephone Company in Vancouver reported many of their lines down with little prospect of clearing them before the week-end.

Of 14 normal circuits to Eastern Canada through the Coquihalla Pass, the telephone company has only three and all lines to Eastern Canada through Kamloops are out. Most of the trouble, officials said, was in the Fraser Canyon.

There were no reports of trouble on the railway lines, although some trains were running a little behind schedule. Trans-Canada Air Lines reported all their planes were delayed.

Heavy rains was reported at Abbotsford and Hope in the Fraser Valley and a steady downpour drenched Vancouver and Victoria. The weather office in Vancouver reported rainfall for that Coast City totalled more than 2½ inches Wednesday with little prospect of fine weather in sight.

Danger of [illegible] a result, [illegible] reported flooded basements.

The British Columbia Electric Railway Company reported no trouble on their city or outlying lines, but officials said maintenance crews were standing by.

The heavy snows in the Interior which caused the many communication lines to snap has eased a little, work crews report although drenching rains now threaten to cause slides in some areas. Many telegraph poles were forced down by the weight of the snow.

The driving rain lessened at the coast, but vessels were warned by the Meteorological Bureau of an approaching gale in the Strait of Georgia and Juan De Fuca Strait. Officials said east to southeast winds of between 30 and 40 miles an hour were expected around midnight Wednesday.

34,484 Personnel Of Navy Discharged

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—From June 2 to November 2, a total of 34,484 navy personnel were discharged in Canada, it was disclosed today by Defence Minister Abbott, tabling information for Hon. Grote Stirling, Progressive Conservative, Yale.

To Set Basis of Tenders On Local Transportation

Greater Victoria transportation committee yesterday sent a composite map of routes proposed by the municipalities for a unified system to the four councils for approval and recommended the setting up of a committee of civic department heads to provide a basis on which tenders can be called.

Four recommendations sent along to the councils for guidance of the proposed committee were:

That tenders be submitted on the basis of a franchise for 10, 15 and 20 years.

That the municipalities receive 3 per cent of the gross receipts from the operation to cover maintenance, improvement and widening of streets.

That transfers be recognized over all routes.

That the franchise be flexible so that increased service and new routes could be sought.

The proposed committee would comprise Solicitor A. J. Patton, Engineer G. M. Irwin and Comptroller D. A. Macdonald, for the city, Engineer A. W. G. Musgrave and Clerk R. F. Blandy, of Oak Bay, Engineer R. H. Stevens and Solicitor G. H. Sedger, of Esquimalt, and two representatives from Saanich. All appointments will be made by the councils.

CITY SOLICITOR OUTLINES PROCEDURE

A. J. Patton, city solicitor, said that the probable procedure would be to draft a by-law agreed to by the municipalities after receipt of tenders. This would have to be submitted to the Public Utilities Commission, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council and the electorate, he said.

A resolution adopted by Saanich Municipal Council was filed with the meeting by Reeve Warren. It calls for provision of interurban service to outlying districts in Saanich and deals with the responsibility towards the Vancouver Island Coach Lines which holds the transportation franchise in Saanich.

Uganda Ready By January 15

Refit of H.M.C.S. Uganda at Esquimalt will be completed on January 15, Royal Canadian Navy officers announced yesterday.

The ship which saw war service in the Far East will then go to sea as the first of Canada's floating schoolrooms for future permanent force navy officers under a new scheme devised by Naval Service Headquarters at Ottawa.

Under the new plan both the Uganda and H.M.C.S. Ontario may sail thousands of miles from home in a long-range program of sea training.

Capt. Rollo Mainguy, of Duncan, will remain as commanding officer of the Uganda.

Dredges Off For France

SOREL, Que., Nov. 14 (CP).—A trans-Atlantic voyage that may last six weeks has begun for the crews of three dredges being sailed from this St. Lawrence River shipbuilding centre to the war-damaged ports of France.

The dredges, sold to the French Government by Marine Industries, Ltd., through arrangements made with the Dominion Government, left here Saturday. If their voyage takes as long as that of the first dredge delivered they will be at sea 42 days.

The craft, manned by French-speaking Canadian sailors under veteran deep-sea captains, will be used in clearing and rebuilding such ports as Bordeaux, Rouen and St. Nazaire. Most members of the crews come from the lower St. Lawrence River districts of Matane and Rimouski.

Believe Weir Slated For Education Post

While Premier Hart said Tuesday at a press conference that a new Minister of Education to succeed Hon. H. G. Perry, defeated in Fort George riding at the recent provincial elections, had not been appointed, it is generally believed that George M. Weir, M.L.A.-elect for Vancouver Burrard, would again assume the duties of the Education Department.

Dr. Weir was a member of the Pattullo Government from 1933 to 1941, when he was defeated in Point Grey. He held two portfolios—that of Education and Provincial Secretary. The latter portfolio has been taken over by Hon. George S. Pearson, who also is Minister of Labor.

Collect 82 Per Cent Of Income Tax

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Despite handicaps due to shortage of office staff and increased work the taxation division of the National Revenue Department has assessed 82 per cent of individual income tax returns received and 86 per cent of corporation returns received during the last five fiscal years, C. Fraser Elliott, deputy minister, today told a Senate investigating committee.

Mr. Elliott was giving a review of the operations of the division to the senators who have been instructed to investigate income tax law and administration and recommend improvements.

Program Calls For $4,500,000

LONDON, Nov. 14 (CP).—A £1,000,000 ($4,500,000) publicity program was adopted unanimously today by the Church of England Assembly, after a warning from Dr. C. M. Chavasse, Bishop of Rochester, that the clergy's "spiritual anemia" had left half of Britain "worse than heathens."

Calling for a revival of religious life, a 172-page report submitted to the assembly by a committee on evangelism recommended a "missionary invasion of the modern agencies of propaganda," in a five-year publicity program.

Money to meet the advertising costs, the report said, "would be a matter for prayer and careful consideration from all points of view."

Alexander Prepares For Canadian Post

ASCOT, Eng., Nov. 14 (Reuters).—Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, Canadian Governor-General designate, hopes his new job in Ottawa will aid in cementing still further the friendship between Britain, Canada and the United States.

The famed Mediterranean military commander said in an interview that he welcomed his appointment to the Canadian post because "I think there is a real job there."

Only 75 Nazis Want To Remain in Canada

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Seventy-five of the 30,000 German prisoners of war have made application for permission to remain in Canada, it was disclosed today in information tabled in the Commons by Defence Minister Abbott.

Greek Hunger Strike Succeeds

LONDON, Nov. 14 (CP).—A hunger strike by several hundred Greek seamen in seven British ports ended today. The men accepted a Greek Government offer of a living allowance of seven shillings and six pence (about $1.65) a day for unemployed seamen. The mariners started the strike ten days ago to enforce a demand for such an unemployment allowance.

Communists Thrown Back In Mongolia

CHUNGKING, Nov. 14 (AP).—Crack Communist troops were thrown back in savage fighting as they hurled heavy attacks at two major Nationalist strongholds in Inner Mongolia, an official dispatch said today.

The battles still swirled about the railway terminal of Paotow and long-besieged Kweisui, capital of Suiyuan Province, 80 miles to the east, where the Communists threw in 10,000 reinforcements, the dispatch added.

The attack on Paotow, western terminal of the severed Peiping-Suiyuan railroad, opened at 3 a.m. yesterday and 3,000 Communist troops forced the western gates, this account claimed. Eleven hours later they were expelled.

Gen. Ho Lung, noted Communist commander, meanwhile was reported to have attacked Kweisui with five columns 10,000 strong.

The dispatch said the attackers inflicted "considerable casualties on civilians" in the southwestern section of the city before most of them were wiped out.

The situation remained obscure on the southern border of Manchuria, southeast of this battle zone, where neutral advices had reported Nationalist troops had captured the Communist fortress city of Shanhaikwan (Linyu).

A Communist spokesman was unable to confirm Shanhaikwan's fall but said at last reports Government troops were but two-thirds of a mile from the city.

He declared the Government had landed four armies at the United States Marine-occupied port of Chinwangtao for the sole purpose of seizing Shanhaikwan and are pushing on into Manchuria.

Damage to School Properties Brings Prosecution Warnings

Damage by vandals was strongly deplored by the school board last night, and trustees decided to prosecute to the fullest extent of the law any persons caught in acts of vandalism.

Support of parent-teacher organizations throughout the city will be sought in an effort to curb the wave of vandalism which increased losses this year by 50 per cent.

Damage to fences and bicycle racks, cited in the report of the building and grounds committee, done on Hallowe'en, touched off the action. Broken windows to date this year have cost the board nearly $1,000.

Two new courses for night school were approved by the board. They are a course in practical and theoretical plumbing for journeymen and a course of 12 lectures for prospective leaders of co-operative play groups for pre-school children.

The school board will wire the Dominion Government asking that educational equipment available through the War Assets Corporation be turned over to educational institutions without charge. Support of the City Council will also be sought. A list of articles needed will be filed through the Department of Education.

The school board ruled that all requests from veterans to complete education in secondary schools under the Department of Veterans' Affairs be acceded to, provided Victoria High School can accommodate them.

Trustee Austin I. Curtis, chairman, and Trustees Miss I. Tuck, W. A. Bayliss and C. M. Parrott were named delegates to the British Columbia School Trustees' Association convention.

To Rush New Road

EDMONTON, Nov. 14 (CP).—Signed agreement for construction of the $2,000,000 Grimshaw Road was received today by Public Works Minister W. A. Fallow from the Federal Government. The Provincial Government signed the agreement two weeks ago.

On receipt of the agreement, Mr. Fallow gave immediate instructions that survey crews be dispatched to the road site.

Four Government Buildings Burned In Tel Aviv Riots

Crowds Stone Police—British Troops Fire And Charge With Clubs Into Mobs of Youths

JERUSALEM, Nov. 14 (CP).—Reports from Tel Aviv late tonight said two Jewish youths were killed, seven were seriously wounded and about 50 slightly injured in street rioting in protest at new British proposals for settlement of the Palestine problem.

The casualties occurred tonight when police and military units fired and charged with clubs into crowds which set fire to Government buildings and stoned police.

The riots started when a crowd of unruly youths, estimated at 300 to 400, broke up a parade of orderly marchers who were returning from a mass demonstration against the statement Tuesday by the British Government on Palestine.

A curfew for all civilians was imposed on Tel Aviv at 11.

Armored cars patrolled the streets of Tel Aviv, largest Jewish city in Palestine, and troops of the British Sixth Airborne Division remained at action stations.

Four Government buildings were either destroyed or badly damaged during the riots which broke out during a 12-hour general strike against new British proposals for settling the Palestine problem.

AT LEAST FIVE BRITISH SOLDIERS HURT

At least five British soldiers and ten Palestine police officers were wounded in the Tel Aviv rioting.

In Jerusalem 12 persons were hurt when youths stoned buses and taxis.

Reports from Tel Aviv said troops of the British Sixth Airborne Division fired at the legs of demonstrators after giving orders to "disperse immediately or we open fire."

A surging crowd of youths set fire to the British district office, breaking windows to hurl torches inside, the advices said, and also attacked the income tax office. Two Jewish police officers were reported hurt by flying stones.

The troops were said to have erected huge posters, in English, Arabic and Hebrew, ordering demonstrators to go home or be shot. Searchlights were directed on the posters, and the crowds dispersed by 10 p.m.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT MAY COME TODAY

No official statement was expected before tomorrow.

In Jerusalem, several hundred youths threw stones at transport workers who ignored the strike call, injuring several Jewish taxi drivers, five Arab taxi drivers, and four bus passengers.

Rebels Hold To Positions

British Indian Forces Make Slight Advance

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 14 (AP).—Determined Indonesian troops, using artillery and frequently counter-attacking, clung firmly to fortified positions along the east-west railway in Soerabaja today and limited British Indian forces to scant gains in the fifth day of bloody fighting.

The British troops continued bombing some key Indonesian positions, but declared they were using "only minimum force" against the Indonesians, entrenched in concrete pillboxes and air aid shelters built before the war.

Meanwhile, in Batavia, the new 36-year-old Premier of the unrecognized Indonesian Republic, Sutan Sjahrir, was assembling his Cabinet to try to stop the fighting in Soerabaja and restore order throughout Java.

Information Minister Amir Sjarifoedin said he was confident the Indonesian Government could restore order if it received co-operative support from British authorities.

Vern Haugland, Associated Press correspondent in Soerabaja, said British Indian troops had hurled back three suicidal Indonesian attacks during Tuesday night, killing more than 100 and suffering a half-dozen casualties of their own in fighting for the Kota railway station and marshalling yards.

A British statement reported two Indian soldiers were killed and six others wounded by Indonesians who infiltrated British positions in the Grand Hotel sector, northeast of Government House.

The statement said R.A.F. planes struck several times at Government House and the Courts of Justice Building, still held by the Indonesians.

Combine Charged In Fixing Prices Of Artificial Limbs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP).—Attorney-General Clark today announced the indictment of 45 corporations, 34 individuals and a trade association on charges of conspiring to fix non-competitive prices for artificial limbs used by amputation cases.

The announcement, released by the Justice Department, said the indictment had been returned by the District of Columbia grand jury, and that it alleged anti-trust violations in the manufacture, assembly, distribution, sale and fitting of artificial limbs throughout the United States.

Ford Workers Agree on Plan To End Strike

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 14 (CP).—Unanimous approval to a proposal for settlement of the nine-week Ford Motor Company strike was given tonight by members of the negotiating committee of the Ford local of the United Automobile Workers and the Canadian Congress of Labor strike committee.

The proposal will go before a policy committee meeting tomorrow morning and be presented to a general membership meeting in the afternoon. Announcement that the negotiating committee and C.C.L. leaders had endorsed the plan was the most encouraging sign since the workers left the plant on September 12.

The move was seen as the first step in a possible break in the deadlock that has existed over the union's demand for union security, including a closed shop and check-off of union dues by the company.

The two committees met tonight shortly after a four-man delegation arrived from Ottawa by special plane. Earlier today the proposal had been discussed with Labor Minister Mitchell and senior departmental officials.

Late tonight the committees issued a prepared statement in which they said "unanimous recommendations" would be put before tomorrow's meetings.

Union officials said they had not yet put the plan before the company but from unofficial sources there were indications that the plan was likely to prove satisfactory to the company.

Urges Closer Understanding With Russia

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP).—State Under-Secretary Dean Acheson said tonight a better understanding between Americans and Russians depends on mutual attempts to open up press and other channels of information.

"I see no way to draw our peoples into closer understanding," he declared, "except by persistent efforts, on both sides, to free the lines of communication through the press and the radio, through books and magazines, through the exchange of knowledge and culture, and through travel and personal acquaintance."

In a speech prepared for an American-Soviet friendship rally, the under-secretary added:

"We have so much to learn and . . . to understand about each other that we cannot hope to succeed except in the spacious atmosphere of honesty, candor and knowledge."

Joseph E. Davis, former Ambassador to Russia, said in his prepared speech:

"We hear a few mad militarists—not among the Great War leaders—in this and other countries, who advocate war with Russia, now, rather than later. That is insanity. It is gambling with peace. It is throwing dynamite around."

Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, urged the Russian press to give "a fuller acknowledgement of the Western contribution to the defeat of Fascism."

Nikolai V. Novikov, Soviet Charge d'Affairs, warned against "reactionary forces" which would split the United States and Russia.

To Set Freight Rates to N.W.T.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—The Commons today was asked by Transport Minister Chevrier to give second reading to a bill that would give the Board of Transport Commissioners jurisdiction over water carriers of ten tons or more operating in the Mackenzie River area of the Northwest Territories.

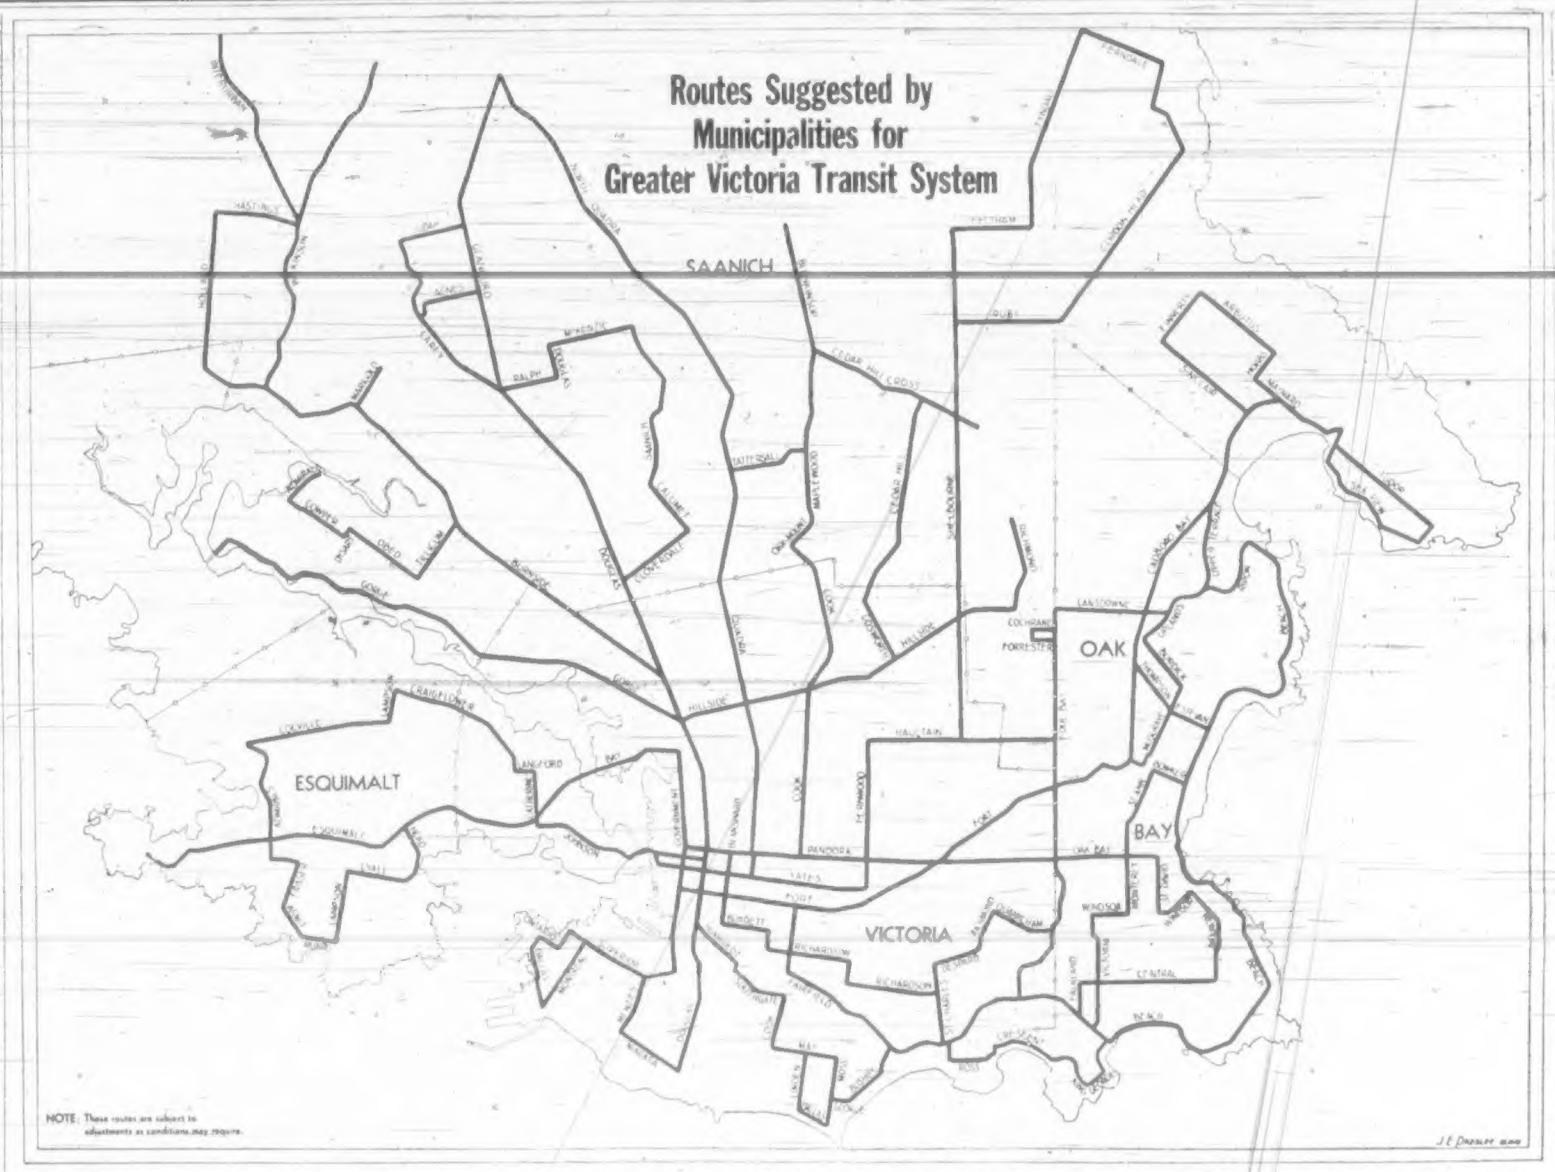
Mr. Chevrier said that the bill, on which debate will be continued tomorrow, would give the transport commissioners authority to fix the freight rates charged by the carriers for the transportation of fuel, bunker oil, food and other products.

He said that the Northern Transportation Company, owned by Eldorado Mines, had been taken over by the Government last year. It was found that at the existing freight rates the company could not be operated at a profit. It was decided by the Government to increase the rates to a point where the company could operate without a deficit.

The companies using the carriers complained about the increases and it was decided to put the matter in the hands of the transport commissioners, who fixed freight rates for carriers on the Great Lakes.

LOSES LIFE IN WOODS

Provincial Police at Campbell River reported yesterday that O. F. Thulin, coroner, had ordered an inquest tomorrow morning into the death of Joseph Johnston. He lost his life in a logging accident on Tuesday at the Bloedel, Stewart & Welch camp.



The composite map, above, was prepared from routes suggested by the four municipalities of Greater Victoria for a unified transportation system. Yesterday it was received by the inter-municipal transportation committee and submitted to the municipal councils for approval.

Councillor J. A. Ellis, of Esquimalt, announced at the meeting that two changes would probably be necessary in his district. They call for an extension on Head Street to serve the area of the Lampson Street School and an extension of the route on Admirals Road to the Esquimalt boundary.

Councillor R. A. Wootton, Oak Bay chairman, said that the Oak Bay Council has approved its routes but will have to approve the composite plan.

Reeve E. C. Warren, Saanich, said that the routes are satisfactory to his municipality.

Coventry Cathedral Alight Five Years After Bombing

COVENTRY, England, Nov. 14 (CP).—The skeleton of St. Michael's Cathedral blazed with light tonight, exactly five years after it was set on fire by German bombers.

Then the cathedral was inconspicuous amid burning buildings in the heart of this Midlands city, but tonight it was bathed in the glow of floodlights.

Standing in the ruined shell of the 14th century edifice, Rt. Rev. Neville Gorton, Bishop of Coventry, conducted a service commemorating the destruction of the cathedral in 1940. On the makeshift altar stood a roughly-fashioned cross, made of two charred timbers.

Prior to the service, a procession unique in Christian history marched across the blitzed surroundings to the cathedral to inaugurate a plan which includes not only rebuilding the Church of England cathedral, but creation of a joint Anglican-Free Church service centre and chapel of unity. The plan is designed to emphasize the international character of Christianity by providing on the permanent staff of the Cathedral's Christian centre representatives of overseas churches.

Freighters Sold For Less Than Half Cost-Price

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Government-owned Park Steamship freighters, which cost between $1,303,348 and $1,100,000, sold for prices ranging from $415,000 to $350,000, Reconstruction Minister Howe disclosed today in the Commons.

Mr. Howe said in a tabled return that 11 4,700-ton ships sold for $415,000 each; three 4,700-ton ships sold for $390,000, and one 3,600-ton ship sold for $350,000.

Authors' Association

Motion pictures depicting the Fraser Valley and youth farm clubs were shown by D. J. McLeod at a meeting of Victoria and Island Branch of the Canadian Authors' Association last night in the Union Building.

James Morton, president, gave an address entitled: "Memories of Dickens." After reviewing principal works of the author, Mr. Morton said he thought Dickens was "the greatest novelist of all," and discussed outstanding features found in his writings.

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP).—The British Government has agreed to support the building of a "university college" in Jamaica, the college to be developed in stages to the status of a university. The Government will also consider providing assistance towards the cost of building.

THE TRADE-MARK? Of course you've seen that thousands of times. But here it's enshrined in a building material of the future.

A laminate made up of layers of paper—yet a material you can't dent.

The beginning of such laminates is allyl alcohol . . . and Shell Research originated a method of getting allyl alcohol in ample supply and at low cost from petroleum.

What materials these laminates will be for airplanes, boats, tabletops—or even suitcases! Dozens of things, from automobiles to your kitchen walls, will be improved as a result of the availability of allyl alcohol.

Look to this Research Leadership for Better Gasoline and Lubricants

Soon you'll be enjoying plastic products made possible by Shell Research. And soon, in your own post-war motoring you'll enjoy the results of this same research skill and experience applied to finer gasoline and lubricants for your car.

Stork Makes Forced Landing With Twins on C.P.R. Train

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14 (CP).—The stork won a race with a westbound Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train early today when twin girls were born to Mrs. Adele MacKenzie, 29, of Winnipeg, a few minutes before the train arrived in Vancouver.

Mrs. MacKenzie and her husband, Millar MacKenzie, a member of the United States Army, were en route to Mr. MacKenzie's home in Thorpe, Wash. Mrs. MacKenzie and babies were taken from the train to hospital in Vancouver. Condition of the three is reported as good.

Mrs. Arthur Chetwynd, of Toronto, a graduate nurse from a Vancouver hospital, and Mrs. C. C. Mann, of Vancouver, assisted at the births.

The twins are the first children born to the couple, married in Washington, D.C., two years ago, where Mrs. MacKenzie met her husband while working for the British ...

POTATO STORAGE LOSSES

Several millions of potatoes are lost every year as a result of sprout growth in storage.

Invalids Claim Vision Caused Improvement

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP).—As elevated trains rattled overhead and photographers' bulbs flashed, 25,000 persons stood praying in the mud of a vacant lot in the Bronx tonight, waiting for a miracle.

Guarded by 100 police, they told their rosaries in the rain, watching a nine-year-old boy, Joseph Vitolo, Jr., pray at the improvised rock altar on the crest of a bluff.

It was the 16th night that the boy claimed to have seen a vision of the Virgin Mary. And on the 16th night, he said she was to show him a miracle, perhaps the appearance of a miraculous spring.

The crowd saw no miracle, but several invalids claimed their condition had suddenly improved.

Back at home Joseph was emotional and shouted for everyone to go away.

Coal Shortage Still Serious

EDMONTON, Nov. 14 (CP).—Edmonton coal dealers, deluged with orders during the recent strike of Alberta and British Columbia coal miners over meat rating, are having a grim time with coal-short householders.

Determined to prevent coal bins from becoming empty during the current cold spell, residents are placing duplicate orders with several firms and neglect to cancel deliveries when they receive their load, necessitating needless trips by coal-dealer trucks.

A survey of dealers today showed shortage of coal in the city still is serious. One dealer said he did not expect to catch up with orders throughout the Winter, and another reported he was two weeks behind and has stopped taking new orders for the time being.

Three Divisions in Commons Brings Session's Total to 13

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Members of the Commons answered the division bells three times today when the Government asked for a recorded vote on the Canadian flag issue, and Opposition members pursued their efforts to have tabled documents which the Government considers privileged.

By a vote of 181-2 the Commons adopted a resolution establishing a committee of the Senate and the Commons to choose a design for a distinctive Canadian flag.

The Government was upheld 111-82 and 105-85 on the other divisions, now an almost daily occurrence since the Opposition began a drive to make the Government let Parliament know what goes on behind the scenes.

The C.C.F. Party called for the first vote when Labor Minister Mitchell declined to produce copies of correspondence between the deputy minister and other officials of the Labor Department and the department's advisory boards which deal with the question of suitable employment.

The Progressive Conservatives supported the C.C.F. on the vote, but the Social Credit Party members split. Solon Low, Social Credit leader; John Blackmore (S.C., Lethbridge) and P. H. Ashby (S.C., Edmonton East) voted against the motion, while their party colleagues supported it.

The Progressive Conservatives called the second division when Health Minister Claxton declined to table for Donald Fleming (P.C., Toronto Eglinton) copies of the minutes and proceedings of the supervising committee of the Canadian ... established to replace the Wartime Information Board.

Mr. Claxton said the committee, whose job it was to make favorable and unfavorable comments about the service in order to improve its efficiency, would not operate properly if its reports were to be made public.

Of the 13 divisions so far, four were on the address in reply to the Throne Speech, three were on Government refusal to produce documents, two were on rulings of the Speaker, and the remainder on Government legislation.

A reason given for the frequent divisions this session is that the Opposition is stronger than in the last Parliament, and consequently shows up better in a test of strength. Another explanation is that members, smarting from the wounds of the last general election, are less inclined to conciliate than after they have been working together for several sessions.

Corvette Sells For $50,000

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Eighty-six corvettes which cost between $620,000 and $1,170,000 to build sold for prices ranging from $10,000 for ships destined for scrap to $50,000, it was disclosed today in information tabled in the Commons by Reconstruction Minister Howe.

One example was the corvette Halifax which cost $715,541 to build and sold for $50,000, said the information, provided for T. L. Church (Progressive Conservative, Toronto Broadview).

The corvettes were disposed of to individual commercial buyers on a sliding scale which involves a price of $50,000 for the first ship; $40,000 for the second and third; $30,000 for the fourth and fifth; and $20,000 for the sixth and all subsequent ships.

Hear Address on Army Telescopes

"At the start of the war experts said Canada could not make optical glass, but we went ahead and made it anyway," said Prof. A. M. Crooker, of the University of British Columbia physics department, in addressing a meeting at Victoria College last night.

Prof. Crooker, who spent several years with Research Enterprises, Ltd., Toronto, spoke on "Military Telescope Making." He recently returned from a trip to Germany during which he inspected German glass factories, and reported on several new German processes.

Optical glass was very different from ordinary glass, Dr. Crooker explained. It had to be perfectly transparent and free from impurities. Glass was manufactured in porcelain pots and heated three times, reaching temperatures as high as 1,400 degrees centigrade. Research Enterprises manufactured 24 different types of crown and flint glass used mainly in range-finding, he said.

B.C. Volcano

Dorothy Smith said that neither her mother nor Mr. White mentioned that the sludge was warm but both were convinced the flow started with volcanic action because of the intense sulphurous smell of the goo.

Miss Miles commented that "there could be sulphur mineralization in the mountain and a rock and mud slide could have turned it up," adding there is sulphur in the Rocky Mountains in the Banff area about 50 to 60 air line miles away.

In Victoria Dr. J. F. Walker, deputy provincial minister of mines, said that while the Provincial Department of Mines has not been notified of the indications of a volcano, the reports will be probed.

After hearing reports of Mr. White and Mrs. Smith, Dr. Walker said the incident sounded more like a mud slide than anything else, which is quite normal for that region.

Adjourn Trial Till Saturday

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14 (CP).—Juvenile Court Judge H. S. Wood today adjourned until Saturday the trial of a 12-year-old boy charged with the murder of Dianne Blunt, four.

As the adjournment came, A. E. Branca, defence counsel, said he was not sure whether he could introduce evidence and that he feels now that he will not. He asked for the adjournment to allow time to get a written copy of the evidence given by phychiatrists.

Called today by Gordon Scott, prosecuting counsel, the boy's father said he could not give an explanation of the boy's alleged act.

The father testified that the boy had good school reports, that he never noticed anything strange in the lad's behavior, and that the boy had never been subject to fits. He added that the child had been hit on the head by an automobile at one time but never seemed to feel any after effects.

Urges Education To Assist World

Defence against the catastrophic possibilities of the atomic bomb could only be found in the clear thinking of the people freed from prejudice through the teaching of the truth, Reed Fulton, novelist, lecturer on education and principal of the West Seattle High School, declared in an address to guests and members of the Greater Victoria Teachers' Association last night in Terry's dining-room.

A full audience, mostly teachers, which attended the banquet, listened intently while the speaker told them of the important part they as teachers should play in overcoming prejudice through their work with children.

"Science has so far outstripped Christianity that the world is tottering on the brink," Mr. Fulton warned. "War is caused through prejudice, and prejudice through ignorance, and the only way of combatting all three is through education by teachers, the press and from the pulpit," he added.

The problem concerned everyone, the speaker said, and called upon the teachers in the audience to improve themselves and the educational system which, he claimed, had been dominated too long by those at the top, including the universities.

Hugh E. Farquhar, president of the Greater Victoria Teachers' Association, introduced Mr. Fulton.

Fall Injures Cyclist

Thrown to the roadway last night when the front wheel of the bicycle she was riding caught in street car tracks, Miss Olive V. Buckingham, 120 Linden Avenue, suffered injuries to the right knee and shoulder, and a head injury, according to police. The accident took place on Fort Street, at Linden Avenue. The girl's condition was described as fairly good by attendants at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, where she was taken at 6:25 p.m.

Opposes "Overseas" Preference on Jobs

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14 (CP).—Mayor J. W. Cornett announced tonight he will ask the city police commission to reconsider its decision of "overseas preference" in recruiting new constables.

He said the ruling might well be revised to include all servicemen.

Stating that he was seriously concerned with the situation, Mayor Cornett said it would be unfair to bar any applicants who had enlisted for overseas but did not leave Canada as their services were thought more valuable to their country if they remained in Canada.

THREE NEW DWELLINGS

Permits for three new homes were taken out at the city building department yesterday. Victor R. Green will build a four-room dwelling at 515 Burnside Road at a cost of $4,250. A four-room house with a utility room will be built at a cost of $5,525 at 963 Bank Street, and a $4,750 house with four rooms and a dinette will be constructed at 335 Richmond Street.

Nanaimo Firm Fined

NANAIMO, Nov. 14 (CP).—The Cruit P. & M. Lumber Co., Ltd., was fined $50 and costs before Stipendiary Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts here today.

The company was convicted of a charge of failing to take necessary precautions to prevent the spread of fire, prior to the burning of logging slash in Cedar District near here last September.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP).—Pittsburgh Pirates' shortstop stock spurted today with the news that Billy Cox had received his discharge from the army and will be available for baseball next Spring.

Everybody's Obligation

It is right and fitting that the facts regarding unplaced war veterans in Canada should be reported promptly to governmental authority, as was done this week by the Citizens' Rehabilitation Councils of Victoria and Vancouver, but the matter cannot rest there. This country must never again get into the habit of grouping its disengaged and calling that a problem. The years 1929-33 should have taught us all a lesson in that. These men are individuals. Singly and collectively, they are our best assets—men who were loyal to Canada in the field. The task of finding out what path is best for each of them to take is everybody's obligation, not that of governments alone. Naturally, governments must lead.

Meanwhile, the figures for postwar discharges in this area are important. In Victoria alone, it is reported, 4,200 veterans have received their discharges since June of this year. In addition to that number of local veterans were 2,000 veterans from other parts in Canada who took their discharges here. In short, 6,200 veterans became civilians in this one community in a six months' period. In that same period, shipyard and other war plant work was being sharply curtailed in this region. Private business was not expanding at a rate to absorb those who from two sources became displaced.

What is true of Victoria will in one sense be true of the whole of Canada. No one will contend that governments alone are responsible for a solution. It must be governments, municipalities, industry, business and all of the people themselves—all doing their part. Many of the discharged veterans want a rest. Numbers have elected to take special training. But, and progressively, many will require jobs as the months go on. This country must be ready for that. Our solutions must be practicable and applied. We have the heart. Let us combine in finding the means.

The re-employment of a veteran begins with that veteran. What is his capacity? What work can he do best? What is he best equipped for? Hundreds of men will find ready work across Canada and fit in there as if they had never left the country. With others, special training is the key to their eventual success, and that should be a real one. But each veteran is distinct, and each entitled to the earnest help and consideration of everyone in this country. This matter is one of individual ways and means, and it must be so considered from the very start. Humanity cannot be massed and then treated as a "problem." Here is no problem. These are the best men in Canada today, proven under fire. Rehabilitation is now.

Combining Services

The fusion between city and school board health services within Victoria is a timely step. It should work out well if the combined service stays within its logical bounds, and does not seek to become a little St. George—slaying not dragons but microbes, wherever found. That would be too tall an order for this one, small city. On the other hand, there are visible gains from combining forces to improve what can be done by way of education, prevention and continued care in public health from infancy up. The individuals identified with this service are known to be sincere, and that is perhaps the best guarantee.

Victoria has secured fine results from its infants' clinic. The same is true of school health and dental inspections through the years. As a community, we have learned to report communicable diseases, and so head off any growth of an epidemic. The normal ailments are chiefly children's complaints, such as all children experience while attending school. With adults the case is educational, and likely it will remain so for some time to come. Adults like to be asked, not told, what they should or should not do. Where they are asked with reasonableness they will respond, in most instances.

It is something of a pity that the fusion in this instance stops with the City of Victoria. An amalgamated health service would have been a good thing for the Greater Victoria community. Also, it would mean more in the actual improvement of public health. That is what we are all after, improvement, not merely the perpetuation of what has gone before. The Province has done some fine things in recent years. We do not count chlorination as one of them. We are thinking of the chest clinics, the free examinations for communicable diseases, and great improvement in laboratory tests.

A clean bill of health is still the highest diploma in this land.

Japanese Exploitation

It is increasingly evident that the uprisings in Java are the direct result of Japanese exploitation of the circumstances created by their sudden capitulation. Europe was occupied by Allied troops when Germany surrendered, and the Allied High Command had the forces on the spot necessary to enforce its terms. Not so with Japan, which had undisputed control of large areas of conquered territory at the moment of surrender.

The unexpectedness of "V-J" Day forced the Allies to impose surrender terms they could not supervise until they could move troops to the various areas concerned, a process that in some instances took weeks. The necessity for gradual enforcement of his conditions in Tokio by General Douglas MacArthur is an illustration of the difficulties that faced the Allies. Orders to a defeated foe have little validity unless accompanied by sufficient forces to ensure they are carried out.

The Japanese took advantage of the situation with characteristic duplicity. They disregarded instructions, and seized the chance to embarass the Allies by fomenting uprisings among hand-picked native elements in Indo-China and Java. In the latter country, where fierce fighting is taking place, they violated the surrender terms by supplying these native levies with arms and inciting them to attack liberating forces. It has been disclosed that Japanese guns and tanks are being used by the Indonesians, and that Japanese officers have trained them and led them in attack.

The British role in Java is that which devolves on Great Britain as the chief Allied power in the direction of the Southeast Asia Command. Its task is to liberate the areas within the assigned jurisdiction in preparation for postwar adjustment. The first requisite is the restoration of law and order, the primary task of all Allied troops in occupied lands. When that is accomplished the future of Java, including reconciliation of Indonesian independence claims, will be a matter for settlement between the Dutch Government and their colonial subjects. British troops will be withdrawn.

Lieutenant R. H. Gray, V.C.

Honor has come again to British Columbia in the posthumous award of the Victoria Cross to one of its bravest citizens, Lieutenant Robert Hampton Gray, D.S.C., R.C.N.V.R., of Nelson, serving as a Fleet Air Arm pilot with the Royal Navy. The roll of V.C. winners is a catalogue of chivalry unmatched by any other in history, and the deed which won the former U.B.C. student his place among that illustrious company warrants in full that great distinction.

Ranging close to Tokio six days before the war ended, Lieutenant Gray sighted a number of Japanese warships and without hesitation turned his plane for the attack. His aircraft hit again and again, he bored in steadily through a withering barrage of fire, an enemy destroyer in his sights. His plane burst into flames but he kept on without faltering until within 50 feet of the ship. Then he dropped his bomb square on the mark, sinking the destroyer just before his aircraft crashed into the sea.

Lieutenant Gray had almost completed a year's brilliant service on board the British aircraft carrier, H.M.S. Formidable, distinguishing himself in actions against both Germans and Japanese. He had previously won the Distinguished Service Cross and had also been Mentioned in Dispatches. Vice-Admiral Sir Philip Vian, commanding British aircraft carriers in the Pacific, said when citing him for the V.C.: "I have in mind firstly his brilliant fighting spirit and inspired leadership—an unforgettable example of selfless and sustained devotion to duty without regard to safety of life and limb."

The Nelson airman was 27 years old when he gave his life in winning the Victoria Cross, the 13th Canadian recipient and the sixth from British Columbia in the World War. There will be profound sympathy with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gray, in their loss, and regret that such a gallant son should have been killed so close to the end of hostilities. Such a void can never be filled, but their grief will be assuaged by a pride shared by all in this province that the name of Lieutenant Robert Hampton Gray is inscribed on the immortal scroll of the Victoria Cross. It was the second death in action in the same family, and Nelson's second V.C. in the war.

Seen in Passing

In frowning upon the proposal for a national one-day strike in sympathy with Ford workers in Windsor, Percy R. Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, showed the sort of wisdom that should animate all responsible leaders of labor. He termed the proposed one-day general work stoppage as "stupid and dangerous." Instead of gaining sympathy such a move would only alienate the general public, which always stands to be the loser no matter what the merits of any given dispute may be. The path to settlement of labor and management disagreements lies in conciliation, not in provocative action that disrupts the whole country.

The new British speed record in the air is now available in detail. The Royal Air Force Meteor (Capt. H. J. Wilson) which made the record traveled at 602, 606, 608 and 611 miles per hour over its four clocked runs. That is not yet at the speed of sound, but it is nudging it. It is ten times as fast as the landing speeds of most aircraft in 1914-18, and twice as fast as the first warcraft that went all out into action in the conflict now ending. Meanwhile, jet-propulsion is in its infancy. Man may overtake sound, if he knows what to do with it when he has done so.

I Wonder!

I wonder what would happen
If we all went on strike
And everyone refused to touch
A job he didn't like.
Suppose the cows and chickens quit
And wheat refused to grow,
And corn and clover threw a fit,
And wind just wouldn't blow.
Mankind has such an easy life
He thinks he owns the earth.
If these things happened he would learn
How little he was worth.

Harbor Wanted

Frank M. Kelley

Deputy Minister of Public Works E. P. Murphy came all the way from Ottawa recently ostensibly to obtain first-hand information concerning the merits of the pleas put forward by Victorians for an adequate ocean harbor and essential port facilities. He was accompanied by Mr. K. Cameron, chief engineer of the National Harbors Board, Ottawa, and K. Morton, resident engineer of the [illegible] ish Columbia at New Westminster.

Mr. Murphy was here the better part of a day, listened for some hours to spokesmen for several active committees, visited Ogden Point and spent some time at Esquimalt drydock; but with all due respect to the Eastern visitor and his ability to grasp such matters quickly, it would still be safe to premise that his visit revealed nothing new or even to equal the very considerable mass of data already available in Public Works' files at Ottawa and New Westminster.

In the days before the Great War the Dominion Government undertook to make a deepsea harbor here because it was considered good business to do so—one would hate to think any government would deliberately squander $6,000,000 or more as political "pap" just to quiet a clamoring constituency and then, as everyone is aware, abandon the work, leaving, according to shipping men, Victoria's ocean harbor area in almost as deplorable a condition as it was before the first pile-markers for the direction of the last breakwater were driven.

HARBOR DATA ALL AVAILABLE

All the facts preliminary to the start of the actual construction work, such as depths of water and character of the bottom inside a line drawn between Brotchie Ledge and Macaulay Point right up to the mouth of Victoria Harbor, as were data on the directions of the tidal streams and the estimated weight of sea water driven before high prevailing winds, had been secured and undoubtedly were studied by competent engineers while making breakwater and dock plans. This information would probably influence the development of such plans. It must still be on file. Also recommendations made subsequently by the Public Works Department representative on the west coast, Mr. J. P. Forde, who logically would have furnished further facts and figures when he suggested that the second, or west, breakwater should be constructed, not out from Harrison Island as the Government had planned for its final location, but from Macaulay Point, which had been named by Victorians as the starting point for the west breakwater in the first instance. Undoubtedly Mr. Morton must, or should, have a wide knowledge of the area if that is what is really required at this time by his department.

On the face of it, therefore, it would appear to have been almost, if not quite, a sheer waste of the deputy minister's time, coming all the way from his headquarters and returning so quickly. Only recently a delegation from Victoria visited the Federal capital, met the deputy minister and told him as much and probably more than he could possibly see for himself during his very short stay. About the only thing he could have added to his information, concerning Victoria's harbor would be the present soundings of the ocean harbor area—harbor bottoms change with the years—which he could have secured by wiring Mr. H. D. Parizeau, chief of the Hydrographic Survey on the Pacific Coast of Canada.

Whether Victoria's ocean harbor can accommodate one or 50 ships, or that the Port of Victoria is an important seaport and the second port of Canada for deepsea tonnage it does not really come under Mr. Murphy's jurisdiction, however. He frankly admitted this in a telephone conversation the writer had with him late on the night of his visit here. He was going to place the whole business he stated, where he considered it belonged, in the lap of the National Harbors Board. Well, Victoria's ocean harbor may be the "baby" of the N.H.B., but it's time some real attention should be given it at that.

Mr. Murphy's contention was that if the people of Canada spent some millions of dollars on a harbor project here it should have the management of that project. Already he understood Victorians would prefer a local board of trustees to manage the port. This suggestion, however, was something with which he was not directly concerned, and he stated so frankly, at least it sounded that way over the telephone.

One learns that phone conversations are not always satisfactory; but it seemed clear to this listener that Mr. Murphy did not do Victoria's overtures for the completion of a long-promised harbor any particular good through his personal appearance. He stated emphatically that the area to be enclosed was too small for large ships, that it would be too costly to extend a breakwater into 100 feet of water (something which Public Works officials knew when the work was started 30 years ago), and finally he said that Victorians shouldn't inconvenience Canadian Pacific steamships in any way.

The deputy minister didn't enlarge upon this last. Another thing he had heard, he stated, much talk while here of competition as between Victoria and Vancouver. We don't know anything about this latter. Here and now, however, we would like to state that few, if any, Victorians want to enter competition in any way with Canada's first port or inconvenience any shipping company. We all want to see Victoria prosper. The business that should accrue to Victoria when, and if, it ever gets the right consideration from the Public Works Department, Department of Transport, National Harbors Board or whatever other Federal department is responsible, should be new business and benefit not only Victoria, but Vancouver, the railroads of the country, all of which means Canada at large. Truly, considering the matter of a good harbor is of some importance to Victorians, we do not believe Mr. Murphy spent enough time here to justify his journey or our hopes.

Plan War Memorial to Honor B.C. Indians

Contributed

A war memorial fund in honor of British Columbia Indians killed overseas fighting for Canada has been announced, and Mrs. W. C. Woodward, wife of the lieutenant-governor, has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the fund.

This war memorial will not be of stone or marble. It will take a practical form that will help to restore to the native Indian youth a pride in his race.

The plan is to grant to promising young Indians research scholarships in the Indian arts and fine old handicrafts which have been too often discouraged by cheap commercial imitations. A collection will also be made of first class Indian handicrafts which will be held in trust by the Society for the Furtherance of Indian Arts and Crafts, Victoria, to be used solely for remonstration and exhibition purposes.

This collection would be loaned to government departments and private agencies in building up an industry of native handicrafts, for which there is so great a demand. Such a collection would inspire higher standards of craftsmanship, and would help to bring about better prices to the Indian for good work and materially improve his economic status.

The name of Anthony Walsh as a contributor to Canadian folklore has become internationally known. He is of British parentage, and during the Great War he served with the Irish Guards. After the Armistice he decided to see Canada. About 14 years ago he started teaching in the Inkameep Day School on the Okanagan Indian Reserve near Oliver, B.C.

When asked how he came to make his contribution to Canadian folklore drama, Mr. Walsh said, "When I started teaching Indian children it was not very encouraging. The Indians did not feel that they could make such of a contribution to the community. I decided that in order to teach them, I would have to let them teach me. Accordingly I developed an interest in their folklore."

Mr. Walsh noticed that the Indians suffered from a feeling of inferiority. As remnants of a defeated race, they were losing their pride. Their culture had gone into the discard. He enquired about woodcraft, he hunted with the children after school hours. They told him ancient animal stories. Hitting the trail with these young Indians, their teacher learned the bird calls, the ways of the salmon and the habits of the animals. He heard the wild and weird legends that were passed from tepee to tepee down the years. Then he enlarged his knowledge by research in museums.

In the evenings he taught the children to develop their nearly forgotten culture. They arranged little plays. For the animal parts they made papier mache masks. Instead of buying cheap and meaningless masks at the corner confectionery store, they faithfully reproduced the features of sixteen animals of their province. They knew the joys of artistry, the personal satisfaction of handiwork that holds some meaning.

The children presented their first play for their parents' approval. Of this Mr. Walsh says: "I will never forget the light that shone in the eyes of those mothers and fathers. It was as if they realized that they still had something of their own, something they understood and was of value."

The Indian children of Inkemeep Reserve then presented their plays befzore the townspeople of Oliver, B.C. They won a cup offered by the British Columbia Department of Education.

Later they played in the drama festival at Penticton.

They were invited to give three plays at the opening of Thunderbird Park in Victoria, with its beautiful outdoor setting.

These Indian children raised $100 for the Red Cross by giving their plays at Oliver. A painting donated by their chief's son brought $850 for the Lord Mayor's Fund in London, England.

Mr. Walsh has exhibited Indian paintings in Dublin, London, Glasgow and Paris.

The Indians of Inkameep are ranchers. They will continue to raise horses and cattle. They will devote a certain amount of spare time to cultural progress just as the white people of farms and cities. For example, the chief's son, Francis Baptiste, whose Indian name is Sis-Hu-Lk, is a young cowboy. The family has 600 head of stock. The boy has seven saddle horses which he uses on the range. He is an art student and has studied a year at Santa Fe, New Mexico. His paintings have been shown in the larger cities of Europe. Francis tries to fit in a bit of painting three days a week. When roundup time comes, however, his paints are put away and he starts combing the range with the rest of the cowhands. That is the life he was born to. He intends to stay in the hills.

Members of the society feel certain that there are many people interested in the folklore and native craftsmanship of the Indians who would wish to contribute to so fitting a memorial to those who gave their lives on active service overseas. Such offerings should be sent to the Indian Society, c/o Provincial Museum, Victoria.

A REJOINDER

Sir,—In your issue of November 9, you published a letter by Mr. Joseph E. Downey, addressed to the parents of Esquimalt School children and complaining about the lack of co-operation in the distribution of poppies at the schools.

From information I have received from the chairman of the school board it would appear that permission was granted for poppies to be distributed as the children left the school, but it is contrary to school board regulations for distributions of any kind or collections to be made during school hours.

From all accounts Mr. Downey, as manager of the Poppy Day campaign, is to be congratulated on his success. Let him confine himself to his own activities, and let the elected representatives of the parents of Esquimalt conduct their own affairs as their regulations permit.

CITIZENS THANKED

Sir,—May I, through the medium of your paper, try to convey my thanks to the people of Victoria. This is a difficult letter to write, as there are not words to express ourselves.

To the ladies in the shops, for the patience they showed in attending to our wants; to the officers' wives who made such a pleasure out of a task that we dislike, namely, sewing on badge and flashes; to the Canadian Legion War Services for their untiring efforts in arranging dances and concerts, and for numerous gifts; and lastly to the citizens of Victoria: We say thank you, and you have given us a memory that we shall cherish for the rest of our lives.

REPATS' THANKS

Sir,—I'd like to give a vote of thanks to the girls of the Y.W.C.A., in Courtney Street, and Al Smith and his concert party, also to the staff of the Victoria Military Hospital for kindness they've shown to the boys who arrived on H.M.S. Glory. It will always live in our memories. Again I say thank you.

The money will be used to benefit veterans' children.

Members taking part in the entertainment were: James McGrath, Arthur Jackman, Reginald Stofer, George Farmer, Joseph Dobbie, William Anderson, A. Saulter, Bert White, C. Heaton, Bert Reason, Ralph Schoor and William Hilton.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock at any time, add 29.8 feet to the height of high water, as above given.

Witness Tells of Seeing Nazi Prisoner Taken to Death Hall

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Nov. 14 (CP).—August Plaszek, Afrika Korps soldier held in this Southeastern Alberta city's prisoner of war camp, was stoned and dragged along the ground July 22, 1943, even as he shouted to a mob of fellow prisoners "Comrades, let me go—what have I done?" a fellow prisoner testified.

The witness, a 25-year-old lance-corporal from Berlin, was heard at the preliminary hearing of a charge of murdering Plaszek against three Afrika Korps soldiers—Johannes Wittinger, 30; Adolph Kratz, 24, and Werner Schwalb, 30.

Magistrate W. H. Ellis, presiding over the hearing, asked newspapermen covering the trial not to publish the name of the witness nor the names of others to follow him. It was understood authorities feared Nazi fanatics at the huge camp might seek reprisals against the witnesses.

The young lance-corporal, a member of the Afrika Korps captured in Africa in 1941, said:

"The crowd was excited and shouting 'Kill him, kill him.' Then someone shouted, 'There is someone in Hall "A" and he should be hanged.'"

A considerable group went to the hall orderly room of Section "A." Witness said he could see three or four people within through the window.

"The crowd shouted that there was a deserter inside and they intended to hang him." Some of the mob pulled Plaszek out of the orderly room. Kratz, standing outside, had a rope in his hand with which he struck Plaszek on the head, the witness said.

Plaszek was dragged into the camp recreation hall, the door of which was locked from inside. Witness remained outside for "five or ten minutes."

He entered when a door was opened and saw Schwalb standing in the middle of the hall "with his hands dripping with blood." Later he noticed Plaszek hanging from a scaffold above the boxing ring.

He recognized the hanging man as Plaszek, whom he had known previously. Kratz, the witness said, was one of those who dragged Plaszek from the orderly room to the recreation hall.

5,000 Jobs Sought By 14,000 Workers

SEATTLE, Nov. 14 (AP).—The United States Employment Service said today 14,000 persons were "actively seeking work or attempting to draw unemployment compensation in the Seattle-Bremerton area while 5,000 jobs were unfilled."

Discharge Points Down to 100

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Another ten-point reduction to an even 100 points was announced tonight by Defence Headquarters in the minimum point-score necessary for priority discharge from the Canadian Army. It was the second ten-point reduction since November 1.

At the same time headquarters announced that the industrial point spread, applicable to personnel seeking discharge in order to return to former employment, has been reduced from 20 to 15 points.

The announcement said that the priority discharge reduction means that soldiers with priority point score totals of 100 or more now can be discharged unconditionally from the army, with the exception of key personnel who may be retained for essential work in the services.

The change in the industrial point spread means that personnel returning to previous employment may now be released with a total of 85 points instead of the 90 previously required.

Saanich Civil Defence Officially Disbanded

Certificates of service for 2,000 Saanich Civil Defence workers were presented to divisional and senior district wardens in Lake Hill Community Hall last night by W. C. Mainwaring. The occasion marked the official disbanding of the organization in Saanich.

Senior wardens will hold meetings in their various districts to distribute certificates to individual workers.

Mr. Mainwaring, in thanking members for their persistence and hard work, expressed the hope that the work of over 64,000 trained Civil Defence personnel in the province would not cease. He pointed out that auxiliary fire crews alone had saved property worth $2,500,000, more than the total amount spent for Civil Defence in the whole province.

Reeve E. C. Warren, Saanich chairman; Capt. E. D. W. Levien, Saanich controller, and Inspector S. F. M. Moodie, assistant to Mr. Mainwaring, added their expressions of gratitude for the faithful and persistent efforts of the members.

Reeve Warren announced that Saanich would accept applications from Civil Defence police for service as special police in the municipality.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Salvation Army To Seek $30,000

An appeal for $30,000 will shortly be issued by the Victoria branch of the Salvation Army. The campaign, under Maj.-Gen. R. O. Alexander, O.B.E., D.S.O., will take place from November 26 to December 8. S. K. Campbell, of the Bank of Commerce, will be the executive chairman.

This year for the first time the Salvation Army was not included in the Community Chest appeal owing to the added demands upon Salvation Army services and the large amount of money needed.

The appeal is divided into two parts, $15,000 being needed for the regular work of the Army during 1946 and the other $15,000 to go towards the building of a new citadel on Pandora Avenue.

Maj.-Gen. Alexander explained that nearly $40,000 had been collected for the new citadel and that a Victoria architect was designing it.

The special names canvassing committee is expected to begin its canvass a week ahead of the general campaign.

CITY TAX PENALTY

City taxpayers were warned yesterday by George A. Okell, city assessor-collector, that 1945 taxes must be paid today to avoid an additional 1 per cent penalty. The penalty will be added tomorrow.

Accidental Death Inquest Verdict

Prompt action by city police in preventing more serious damage was cited yesterday by Dr. E. C. Hart, the coroner, at an inquest into the death of Mrs. Margaret A. Inverarity, 70, which the jury found to be accidental and due to severe burns suffered in an apartment house fire at 1012 Oliphant Street on the morning of November 6.

A rider to the verdict termed the fire escapes inadequate, and Dr. Hart stressed that a vertical ladder was of little assistance in aiding an elderly person to escape.

Mrs. Inverarity died in the Royal Jubilee Hospital last Saturday night.

The inquest was held in McCall Brothers' Funeral Chapel. Jurors were Oliver A. Trickett, foreman; D. W. Lowrie, M. A. Kroeger, Rowland Kingston, Leslie H. Smith and Donald E. Forrest.

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

A headache need not be an illness in itself, but it may be a warning symptom that there is intestinal sluggishness within.

To help overcome the cause of headache it is necessary to eliminate the waste matter from the system. Burdock Blood Bitters helps to remove the cause of headaches by regulating the digestive and biliary organs, neutralizing acidity, regulating the constipated bowels and toning up the sluggish liver, and when this has been accomplished the headaches should disappear.

Missing Hunter Turns Up Safely

VERNON, Nov. 14 (CP).—An intensive search for H. E. McCall, missing since Monday when he went on a hunting trip, ended today when he returned to town none the worse for his adventure.

Mr. McCall said he lost his bearings and it was impossible to find shelter at night. Heavy snow prevented him from sleeping in the open so he spent the night moving about in a small area to keep warm.

When daylight broke he made his way to a logging camp and then walked about seven miles back to town to learn he had created considerable excitement.

Provincial Police had organized search parties who combed the hills east of here where he intended to hunt.

Opposition Defends Union Jack In Debate on National Flag

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—The ideal of a distinctive Canadian flag moved nearer reality as the Commons voted to establish a committee to decide upon a suitable design.

As the division ended and the House Clerk reported the near-unanimous vote, Government members rose to their feet singing "O Canada" and the entire House and the public galleries stood as the chorus was closed with "God Save the King."

T. C. Church (P.C.) commented later that "they won't haul down the Union Jack with my vote" while Mr. Jacques said during the debate that the main drive for national emblems came from those who wished to "internationalize" Canada. They were the only two to oppose the resolution.

The vote ended a lengthy Commons debate which at times was warm, even heated, and the resolution now goes to the Senate, where further discussion probably will develop.

It was the Union Jack, Canada's flag since colonial days, which dominated the Opposition speeches, with some urging that it remain as the Canadian emblem while others agreed to a new flag but stressed that it should contain the Union Jack in a prominent position.

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVES FAVOR UNION JACK

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, concluded the debate and said his party would support the resolution, which will establish a joint Senate-Commons committee, but would oppose the committee's report if the design it recommended did not give a prominent place to the Union Jack.

The Progressive Conservative party favored a distinctive flag so long as it did not discourtesy to the Union Jack.

Mr. Bracken said he did not want to see the Union Jack relegated to an inferior position.

There were some who wanted the Union Jack retained as the national flag, there were others who wanted a flag that would give no place to the Union Jack. Still others followed a middle course and wanted a flag that would be distinctive and yet give a place of honor to the Union Jack.

He could not agree with the two "extreme" suggestions and he found himself allied with those who favored a distinctive flag giving a place of honor to the Union Jack.

It was his party's view that time could have been saved by adoption of the suggestion that the Red Ensign be accepted as the Canadian flag.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said no one in the House had a greater love of the British people than he did and he wished to maintain Canada's association in the Empire. But the status of the members of the Empire should be on a basis of equality, with none subservient to another.

Must Work for New Freedom

"How Free Are Women?" the first in a series of Women's Round Table discussions on the general topic of "Women at the Crossroads," was held Wednesday evening in the council chamber of the City Hall, with Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., and Dr. Hehrietta R. Anderson as principal speakers. Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin was discussion leader.

"Women have attained, during the war years, social and economic freedom far greater than ever before, but will not be truly emancipated until they are on a level with men as to opportunity with a freedom of choice in their social, economic and political destiny," Mrs. Hodges stated. Women were really at the crossroads now and should realize that "the road back or forward" was up to the women themselves, she added. Their status could change just as quickly in a backward direction as forward now that the war is over.

Touching on the "Four Freedoms," Mrs. Hodges pointed out that women have only a limited freedom of speech—questioned women's full tolerance in freedom of religion and, on freedom from want expressed the opinion that women would not be free in this respect until they attain equal opportunity with men and equal pay for equal work.

Commenting on discrimination against married women which was so strongly felt in prewar years, Mrs. Hodges said few realized that a British Columbia law of 1931 protected women in this respect. It states clearly, she said, that no one should be disqualified from any position because of sex or marriage.

Dr. Anderson stressed the importance of women standing together and of fitting themselves for positions if they expect equality of opportunity and financially, with men. "Women are not really free or independent and will not be until they overcome their fear of public opinion and criticism and have the courage to stand together and fight prejudice in overcoming male objections," she said.

"When women develop a code of ethics as men have in busines, they will have attained a great stride in reaching freedom," Dr. Anderson stated.

Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin introduced the speakers and led discussion after the speeches. Mrs. A. C. Ross, past president, introduced the new president, Miss Margaret McKillican, and other members of the executive.

High Heels Are Bad

LONDON, Nov. 14 (Reuters)—Women's heels should be not more than one and a half inches high, said N. C. Leake, senior surgeon at Charing Cross Hospital, addressing members of the Incorporated Society of Chiropodists at the Autumn convention.

"When the heel is higher than that," he said, "the weight becomes more and more transferred to the front part of the foot."

Weddings

GREXTON—MEDD

St. John's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding last Saturday evening when Rev. George Biddle officiated at the marriage of Annie May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Medd, 1013 View Street, to Victor James Grexton, second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Grexton, 86 Dallas Road. Mr. Thomas Jenkins presided at the organ and during the signing of the register, Mrs. D. McDonald sang "Because."

Given away by her father, the bride looked lovely in her wedding gown of white crepe de chine, fashioned with lace yoke, sweetheart neckline, gathered skirt and long sleeves. Her floor length veil was arranged under a heart-shaped halo of net trimmed with orange blossoms. She wore the groom's gift, a necklet of pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

The bride's attendants provided a charming color note: Mrs. D. Andrist as matron of honor, sister of the bride, wore orchid, Miss Patsy Medd, another sister, chose turquoise blue, Miss Phyllis Grexton, sister of the groom, was in shell pink, and little Vivian Prive, niece of the bride in lemon yellow. They wore heart-shaped headdresses to match their frocks and carried chrysanthemums.

Mr. Joseph Grexton was best man for his brother and ushers were Mr. Patrick Medd and Mr. Raymond Grexton, brothers of the couple. A reception for about one hundred and fifty guests was held at the K. of P. Hall following the ceremony.

For a honeymoon at Banff, the bride chose a green ensemble with fox fur, and sequin trimmed hat. Mr. and Mrs. Grexton will make their home in Victoria.

War Restrictions On Styles Lifted

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP). — The Prices Board threw a lot more of those war styles and clothing restrictions out the window tonight.

In a message with good news for style-hungry women, it announced revoking of all restrictions on manufacture of women's, misses' and juniors' woolen coats, suits and sports jackets. The one qualification was that no manufacturer could offer more than 50 styles of such garments in any Fall or Spring season.

Perhaps even more important news for the ladies was the announcement of the revision of restrictions governing manufacture, sale and delivery of other types of women's, misses' and children's wear.

The revision provides that controls on the back and sleeve styles and on belts, sashes, collars, cuffs and such will be relaxed or removed entirely.

Hints on Polish

Save a few minutes from a routine job and there will be extra minutes for fun. The new oily quick-dry preparation goes right over fresh polish; shortens the waiting period and softens the cuticle as well. Do the right hand first, because the less expert left tires more quickly. In a complete job, hands and feet, do the feet first. Manicure while the polish is drying.

Request Juvenile Detention Home

Detention of juveniles coming before the courts, in the City Police Station was scored by the board of directors of the Children's Aid Society, at a recent meeting. Rev. J. L. W. McLean presided.

The board moved to request each municipality in Greater Victoria to take immediate steps to provide adequate facilities for the detention of children coming before the Juvenile Courts. It was contrary to the law for children to be detained in a city police station, officials stated, and could be harmful to their welfare. The board urged immediate action.

Nine cases of neglected children were reported to the society during the past month: ten unmarried mothers were referred for help. There are 84 adoption homes now under supervision of the society. children are cared for in these homes pending final adoption—65 children are awaiting placement.

Mr. P. T. Doswell was welcomed as a new member.

SOME MEN NEVER UNDERSTAND THEMSELVES

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm in my late teens and although I haven't a ring, I'm engaged to a Marine, now overseas, whose home is in another state. He claims to love me and has asked me to wait for him. However, he has never given me any little gift, not even for Christmas or my birthday, but has wanted me to give myself to him without marriage.

He's told me what a hard life he had at home, without much understanding from his family, but I don't see why I should have to give myself to him to make up for that. In spite of everything I love him and want to be his wife.

Since the Marine has been overseas, I met a boy from my home town who is in love with me and has asked me to marry him. He shows more respect for me than the Marine, and has had a much better education. I could love this boy, if it were not for the one overseas. Do you think the Marine is really in love with me or just leading me on? He writes often.—Confused.

No reason in the world why you should "give yourself" to a man because his family failed to understand him. That's an old one, a regular museum piece trotted out by the married man trying to break down the will of some young girl with "my wife doesn't understand me."

Do such men ever understand themselves, and hasn't there been a world of literature written on that subject—the failure of every individual to understand himself, his propensities, ambitions and weaknesses? I hope you'll understand that the Marine's request is just plain selfishness. However, please don't marry the man from your home town, if you don't learn to love him.

Scottish Woman Combines Home and Political Career

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 14 (CP)—Jennie Lee, M.P., sometimes watches her husband, Health Minister Aneurin Bevan, address the House of Commons and her attitude is just the same as scores of other Labor government supporters, no more and no less enthusiastic over the efforts of the fluent Welsh politician.

But as Mrs. Bevan at home in her London house she is a complete conservative, concerned with the comfort of her husband who is as work-harried as other cabinet members, interested in home decoration and cooking, taking care to buy gramophone records and books she knows Mr. Bevan as well as herself will enjoy.

Although she is almost as well known as her husband in political circles, they never speak on the same platforms if they can help it.

"It looks too much like a circus when we do," she remarked.

Miss Lee represents the Staffordshire constituency of Cannock but first was elected for North Lanark, Scotland, in 1929. There this daughter of a Fifeshire miner won the support of voters many of whom never before had backed the Labor policies she set forth with vigor.

Now 41, Miss Lee looks on herself almost as a veteran in political campaigning. She recalls the story of a Scottish farmer in her constituency who wondered out loud at a meeting why she had been brought forward as a candidate.

TAKEN FOR ACTRESS

"She's on the stage," he complained. "She takes her clothes off in public."

Miss Lee said she had been confused with Gypsy Rose Lee. For once, Mr. Bevan was on the same platform and she whispered to him to correct this wrong impression. All the unfortunate husband could think of to say was that the way to live happily with a wife was never to see her.

Yet the Bevans never seem able to see enough of each other, although they have been married 11 years. They live in an old-fashioned five-story London house, inconvenient by modern standards, and Jennie Lee's mother keeps house for them as, with their round of public duties, it would be impossible for them to care for household tasks alone.

Two years ago the Bevans lived in the country. Mr. Bevan thought there would be no more bombing of London so they might as well return. They were in time for the last land mine, the first buzz-bomb and the first rockets, which were even worse than the bombing raids of the earlier war years.

"How's that for inside information?" asks Miss Lee, grinning.

Her main interest outside her home is politics, but she enjoys walking, the ballet and reading. Her hobby, she says, is her husband.

London Stocks

LONDON, Nov. 14 (Reuters).—A small volume of business made it difficult to test prices on the stock market today and there was a scattering of fractional gains and losses.

British funds reacted slightly under profit-taking after early firmness while home rails met general demand.

International dollar stocks were firm in unison with higher New York advice and South African gold mines met good support both locally and from the Cape.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, Nov. 14 (CP).—Rye futures prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today declined the one cent maximum permitted under the new Grain Exchange regulations shortly after the opening. With the exception of a few spasmodic trades, the prices held for the remainder of the session. In initial dealings moderate selling appeared in response to weakness in Chicago rye prices while shippers gave some support at the lower levels.

Scores Buildings At Willows Park

Buildings at Willows Park "should not be allowed to open until they are made safe," according to correspondence from W. A. Walker, provincial fire marshal, read last night at a meeting of the Oak Bay Council.

Mr. Walker based his statement on a detailed report of the condition of the buildings by W. A. Oswald, deputy fire marshal, who claimed each building was badly in need of repairs. In several instances Mr. Oswald reported: "This building is in such a dilapidated condition it should be torn down."

The council decided to send a copy of the report to the city, with the request that immediate action be taken. A copy will also be sent to the Oak Bay fire marshal.

Letters and communications from various sources in connection with acquisition of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., Ltd., were received and filed.

A letter from the Children's Aid Society asked that one afternoon be set aside weekly for hearings before the Juvenile Court. Another letter asked that attention be given to the establishment of a detention home for juveniles. The council will investigate both matters.

Holland Call

"Hello darling, how are you. I am speaking from Holland," were the words that greeted Mrs. James R. Marrs, 723 Selkirk Avenue, when she picked up her telephone at 7.30 a.m. yesterday morning. She was hearing the voice of her husband for the first time in five years. He [illegible] for the Canadian Legion War Services in Holland.

Well-known here, Mr. Marrs left Victoria for overseas with the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment in 1940 as pipe-major. He later transfefred to the war services in England and saw service in Sicily, Italy, France, Belgium and Holland, where he is now stationed.

Mrs. Marrs, still excited about her trans-Atlantic call, said her husband told her he hoped to return to Victoria sometime between Christmas and the middle of January.

Prior to the war, Mr. Marrs was employed in the water works department at the City Hall. Ronald, 10-year-old student at Victoria West School, also spoke to his father for a few moments.

"His voice came over very distinctly," Mrs. Marrs said. "Only once did I have to say 'pardon.' It was wonderful to hear him."

She said that the call was routed from Holland to New York, and she spoke directly to the New York operator.

Disband Regiment

The 5th B.C. Coast Regiment, R.C.A., oldest regiment in Western Canada, is being disbanded as an active service unit prior to reorganization as part of the Non-permanent Active Militia.

During the regiment's service guarding the approaches to Vancouver Island in the past six years, it has given initial training to 3,000 officers and other ranks, fitting them for combat training in England.

First established in 1858 as the Victoria Rifles, it was later converted to artillery, and saw service in three wars, including the Boer War, Great War and World War. One of its last distinctions was the award of the pennant of the chief of the general staff for obtaining the highest percentage of its quota in the Ninth Victory Loan.

Commanding officers of the regiment during the World War were Lt.-Col. V. McKenna, M.C.; Lt.-Col. E. Routier, M.C.; Lt.-Col. K. W. Hicks, and finally Lt.-Col. George Paulin, E.D., who has recently returned to civilian life as head of George Paulin, Ltd.

Bournemouth Changed

Bournemouth, England, known to nearly all R.C.A.F. personnel who went overseas, has changed so much recently, according to an overseas dispatch, that some who visited it early in the war would scarcely know the city.

Instead of being a depot that merely welcomes personnel in blue to England, it is gradually changing over to one that sends them away. In short, it is in the process of becoming mainly a repatriation depot.

It takes five squadrons to look after what reception still remains and the large repatriation duties. They are commanded by Wing Cmdr. C. B. Sinton, D.F.C., who did two tours of operations in Bomber Command and won his decoration by saving the life of one of his own crewmen after his plane had ditched into the North Sea.

BRANCH HAS NEW HOME

An executive meeting of Esquimalt Dockyard Branch No. 172, Canadian Legion, will be held in the organization's new headquarters at 622 Admirals Road at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Few Selected

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP). — Only about 1,000 of the same 5,000 volunteers for the two-year interim force have passed through a tough selection organization, a defence official said here today.

He said members of the interim force were under no obligation to complete their two-year service and in fact could obtain their discharge next March. But a careful selection of "fighting-fit" men was being made because it was felt the majority of the interim men would elect to remain in service to form the nucleus of the permanent force.

He added the chief immediate role of the reserve force was aiding in the demobilization program and there were "plenty" of men in the discharge stream to handle this task.

Islanders Get D.F.C.

Three Vancouver Island members of the R.C.A.F., one from Victoria, have received the Distinguished Flying Cross, it was revealed by R.C.A.F. headquarters at Ottawa.

Local personnel awarded the D.F.C. are Sqdn. Ldr. W. J. Smith, whose father, W. H. Smith, resides at 1584 Hampshire Road, Oak Bay; Flt. Lt. T. S. Forbes, son of Mr. T. S. Forbes, Saanichton, and Flt. Lt. R. V. Best, whose mother, Mrs. V. C. Best, lives at "The Alders," Ganges.

Sqdn. Ldr. Smith received his award following a large number of sorties, and for fine fighting spirit demonstrated during an attack against Magdeburg in January. The citation reads in part:

"Soon after leaving the English Coast, the starboard inner engine of his aircraft failed, and a little later the port outer engine also failed. Although in consequence he was behind timing and below the briefed bombing height, this officer pressed home his attack and successfully bombed the target."

An attack against Ludwigshaven, which he completed despite intense anti-aircraft fire directed at his plane, resulted in the awarding of the D.F.C. to Flt. Lt. Best.

Flt. Lt. Forbes, according to the citation accompanying his decoration, piloted a bomber, a motor, one wing and the fuel lines of which had sustained severe damage by flak while approaching the target at Potsdam. He managed to complete the mission with excellent results.

Organized to honor Princess Alice on her departure from Rideau Hall when the Earl of Athlone's term as Governor-General expires, women's committees across the Dominion are hoping to establish a $50,000 fund to be used for leadership training among young women.

The Ontario committee, undertaking to raise $25,000 is anxious that every woman in Ontario should have a part in honoring Her Royal Highness, who has shown such interest in the youth of Canada.

Contributions may be sent to Mrs. G. D. Conant, 4 Avenue Road, Toronto.

In Provincial Police court at View Royal on Tuesday evening, Oswald Henson was fined $25 and $2.50 costs on a charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public, and his driver's licence was suspended for three months. A similar fine was imposed on Hunter E. Smith, who pleaded guilty to having in his possession an unplugged pump-gun.

500 Teachers Needed in Alberta

EDMONTON, Nov. 14 (CP).—More than 500 Alberta classrooms are without qualified teachers, Education Minister R. Earl Ansley told delegates today at opening session of the three-day annual convention of the Alberta School Trustees' Association.

Mr. Ansley said the province's teacher shortage is worse than a year ago and added many former teachers are taking advantage upon [illegible] cations. "This will produce worthwhile dividends in the long run, but it does not meet our immediate problem," he said.

Half of the teacher-short schools have been staffed with supervisors of correspondence courses and the number of pupils served by the department's correspondence school branch has been doubled.

"Public Works Program Awaits Unemployment"

EDMONTON, Nov. 14 (CP). — Charge that the Dominion Government "does not propose to institute any public works program or give assistance to provinces to undertake such reconstruction measures until an unemployment situation develops," was made today by Provincial Secretary A. J. Hooke.

Reviewing activities of the Alberta Department of Economic Affairs, set up at the last regular session of the Legislature this Spring, he criticized the Dominion Government's reconstruction policy. Mr. Hooke is minister of the department.

According to Culbertson - - - -

There are countless situations in which two different bids seem equally sound and constructive. Yet, closer examination would reveal a distinct "edge" in favor of one bid or the other. Take a case like today's for example.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North-South 90 on score.

♠ A K 5
♥ A K Q 10
♦ A J 7
♣ J 9 4

This was the bidding in a high-stake game in New York:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Double	Pass	1 ♠
1 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

West ran his six clubs, forcing declarer to discard two diamonds and a spade. (Had he discarded the heart 10, it would have been tantamount to surrendering, since West certainly would have exited with a heart.) East let go all his diamonds, and now West could count the suit and safely lead away from his king. South took the blank ace of diamonds, but was still one trick short of contract.

The no trump rebid chosen by South appeared safe enough, with his huge honor trick holding and with only seven tricks needed for game on the 90 score, but this was a superficial view. West's vulnerable takeout double had to be based on something, and what was more likely than that he had chosen that course to conceal, at least temporarily, a long club suit? It should be observed that West's tactics were a great deal shrewder than South's. Had he bid two clubs instead of doubling, the opponents would not have considered a no trump contract.

The far better rebid on South's part was a double of one spade. Since North had not yet made a bid, this, too, would have been of the takeout variety, and it would have "smoked out" West in a hurry! Not being able to stand the spade response, he would have bid two clubs, and when North and East passed that call, South would be strong enough to double again—still for a takeout. North would bid two hearts (as the least of evils) and expert play by South would bring home that contract—or, if West defended with three clubs, he could be given the axe.

COLD GOT YOU ALL STUFFED-UP?

Do This Quick for Relief!

If you are sneezing and snuffling from a cold . . . all stuffed up, with your nose and throat raw and sore—combat this distress, as thousands do, by gargling with new Pepsodent Antiseptic.

The reason it's recommended is this: Standard laboratory tests prove new Pepsodent Antiseptic kills millions of germs that go with colds. The very type of germs that many medical authorities say often heighten the misery and prolong the effects of a cold.

Isn't it only common sense then, to gargle with new Pepsodent Antiseptic at first sign of a cold. What better way to combat millions of germs on mouth and throat surfaces as far back as you can reach . . . back where illness often strikes first!

So treat a cold this sensible way. Get plenty of rest, avoid exposure, dress warmly, drink plenty of liquids . . . and gargle frequently with new Pepsodent Antiseptic. See if you don't relieve discomfort almost at once!

Oppose Japanese Participation in Davis Cup Tennis

MONTREAL, Nov. 14 (CP).—Officials of the Canadian and Quebec Lawn Tennis Associations today expressed their agreement with the viewpoint of Australian tennis officials opposing a Japanese proposal to enter a team in the 1946 Davis Cup international competition. [illegible]

... newspaper received a dispatch that Japanese had revived their own tennis association, and had asked if Australian players would object to competing against their late enemies for the cup now held by Australia.

Australian officials described the proposal as an affront and opposed any idea of the Japanese being allowed to enter international competition, which will resume next year.

R. N. Watt, president of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association, said that as far as I am personally concerned I agree entirely with the expression of opinion of the Australians and I am sure that the council of the C.L.T.A. would feel the same way.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (CP).—Officials of the United States Lawn Tennis Association agreed today with Australian officials that Japan at least for the time being, not be permitted to enter a team to compete for the Davis Cup now held by Australia. [illegible]

Toronto Indians Suffer Defeat in Play-Off Fixture

TORONTO, Nov. 14 (CP).—Toronto Balmy Beach defeated Toronto Indians 2-1 tonight to take a ... lead into the second game of their Ontario Rugby Football Union ... play-off here Saturday.

Two singles by ... Sammy Sward ... the third gave Beaches ... point lead.

The 6,000 fans watching the floodlight battle at Maple Leaf Stadium saw Indians throw the throttle wide open at the start. The Co-op club opened the scoring early in the first quarter when Toronto Ford was rouged on a bounding kick by Fred Kaiser. But Sward offset that point minutes later with one of his booming spirals.

The break finally came in the third quarter when Beaches made one of their dozen interceptions of enemy passes. Sward kicked behind the Indians line and McKelvey, surrounded by a maze of tacklers, sledded what proved to be the winning point in this opening game of a series that will qualify the Ontario Union champions against ... of the Big Four for the Eastern Canada final, November 24.

Coombs Stars As Ironmen Defeat Eagles

SEATTLE, Nov. 14 (AP).—Shorty Coombs staged a one-man scoring rampage tonight with four goals and an assist to conduct Seattle Ironmen to a 5-4 victory over the Portland Eagles in a Pacific Coast League hockey game. [illegible] game.

The Ironmen trailing by 4 to 2 halfway through the final period put on an Horatio Alger climax during the time Phil. Dalgleish, of the Eagles, was fidgeting in the penalty box after a thumbout for high sticking. They rammed three goals past net tender Fodey in less than three minutes, the first at 12:32 and the last at 14:20.

Coombs got the first two, one with aid from Frisaki and Bentley and the second with an assist from Manager Frank Dotten then flipped a pass to Dotten to set up the third and winning tally.

Shorty had scored twice in the first period which ended in a 2-2 knot as Portland matched each goal, Kyle getting the first one with aid from Conn and with Webster assisting Conn on the second.

It looked like another in the string of Seattle defeats when Portland scored twice in the second frame while blanking the Ironmen. Webster of Portland drew a ... penalty in the ... frame for misconduct.

SUMMARY

First Period: 1, Seattle, Coombs (Dotten) 4:19. 2, Portland, Kyle (Conn) 7:18. 3, Seattle, Coombs (...) 11:16. 4, Portland, Conn (Kyle, Webster) 18:13. [illegible]

PROVERB PETE SAYS

FOR COUNTLESS CENTURIES MUSIC in the air could B found, but it's just the past 25 years that the world has been "wired for sound." But, as is not uncommon to mankind's lot, having ears ye hear not. Then Marconi, De Forest and a host of others thrust forward the time when we'll all be brothers. Some critics pan radio, think it uncouth, we think it just the fumblings of an awkward youth, and are sure that when it becomes of age, it will relly bear out the words of the sage, when he said in a phrase we know you all know, "Big trees from little acorns grow."

Big values from little prices grow is our policy and we can prove it to you when you see this spring-filled three-piece Chesterfield set in mahogany tapestry.
